Subject: Really Sorry About Misplacing Your Notes, Aniket

Hey Aniket,

Hope you're doing well, man. I wanted to talk to you about something, and honestly, I feel pretty bad about it. Remember the notes you gave me last week? I ended up misplacing them, and I'm really sorry.

Here's what happened, I had taken them with me to the café while I was studying, and I think I forgot them on the table when I left. I only realized once I got home, and when I went back the next day to check, they were already gone. I even asked the staff if someone had handed them over, but no luck. I know you had put a lot of effort into those notes, and that's what makes me feel even worse. I've already checked online and at a couple of local stores to see if I can get the same one to replace it. If you could send me the exact title or edition again, I'll make sure to get it for you.

If you have a soft copy or if you could share the exact chapters or topics again, I'll rewrite them properly and give you a clean version. I really want to make up for it.
